The new currency law contains one good feature. It permits national banks to invest a portion of their funds in farm mortgages under certain restrictions. This will place more credit at the service of the farmers and furnish the banks with a desirable line of investments. It is a pity that this reform was not adopted years ago. The idea is not new.

MORE "HIGH COST" BUSINESS.

The investigation into the affairs of the Frisco Railway discloses that its fiscal troubles were caused by the high cost of gold bricks.—Kansas City Star.

THE RIGHT KIND OF PLUCK.

With the raging waters in Texas subsiding the Houston Post has a cartoon showing the bright side of the flood. The Post is thankful for these things: "The flood came when the crops had been gathered and marketed."

"People generally were prosperous."
"Texas had produced $750,000,000 worth of farm products."

"There will be plenty of work and good wages."
"The waters have covered the land with silt, one of the greatest fertilizers, meaning a greatly increased crop."

"The people have been quickly succored with money, clothing and food."

THE WILSON BRAND.

One hundred thousand men are reported to be out of work and idle on the Pacific Coast. The city of Seattle is reported to be in worse condition as regards the labor problem than ever before in its history. The Standard Oil Company and other big concerns which use tin plate have placed orders with Wales factories for 30,000 to 40,000 tons of tin plate, at a cost of $1,325,000. Over at Pittsburgh, a day's journey from Charleston, six thousand men were laid off at one time from two separate plants, a week or so ago. In Philadelphia the Baldwin Locomotive Works is employing a comparatively small force because there are no orders ahead. All this may be prosperity. If so, it is a brand this country has become unused to during recent years, and it will naturally require some little time for people who hail from Missouri to accustom themselves to the "Wilson, that's all" kind.—Charleston (W. Va.) News.

WHAT'S COMING NEXT?

Leading the suffragist movement in Montclair, N. J., is Mrs. Gordon Smith, who believes that woman, if permitted, can successfully operate the Government. Recently she applied to the municipal officers to establish a new civic department, that of supervision of the installation of heating furnaces in dwellings. An official-salaried, of course, at the expense of the taxpayers—was to inspect all such apparatus while it was being set in place, and to issue a certificate of satisfaction. Inquiry develops the interesting fact that Mrs. Smith was sued by a furnace setter who wanted to be paid for an installation. Though she declared that the apparatus would not heat the house, the jury found against her. Wherefore the demand for the new ordinance and the new officials. Mrs. Smith's sad experience gives rise to the thought that behind most of the modern paternal and sumptuary legislation lie a great many disappointments akin to her own. An ordinarily shrewd housewife, even though not a liberator of her sex, would have bargained with the furnace dealer for the simple agreement of "heat or no pay." It is refreshing to learn that the city fathers of Montclair have wisely taken the demand for the new department "under consideration."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WOMAN, 1914 MODEL.

The 1914 model woman will surpass previous models yet produced. This is absolutely guaranteed. Men should place their options at once, for, although the supply is not strictly limited, those who make a quick choice will naturally secure the best-looking road companions. Only one to a customer, although those who make a selection which proves unsatisfactory may later have a second choice, after lawfully disposing of the first one. The 1914 model will be very graceful, with slim body, well curved, so as to attract immediate attention. She will be able to withstand much pressure, have small waist, firm clutch, partially visible mechanism below the body, as in previous seasons, and will be absolutely tireless. She will be somewhat hard to control and will require more to run than any previous model, but will make up for this in speed. Owners should put on the brakes very frequently, however, for if she once exceeds the limit, it will be very hard to keep her within the lawful speed thereafter.

There will be several colors to choose from. The very light shade with yellow top and the dark mode with brown and black tops will prevail. Both will be handled carefully. Owners should bear in mind that the 1914 model will be very apt to skid.

Memphis, Tenn., a dry town, is said to have 1,000 open saloons and it seems as if the city officials are powerless to do anything.

HOW TO KEEP PEACE.

A Wisconsin official, having in mind the unusual conditions which now hedge about the article of matrimony in that State, has assumed a paternal role, and gives the following advice to prospective brides and grooms:

Don't argue.
Don't be bossy.
Don't show your own importance.
Don't forget who you are and what your wife is.
Don't be deceitful.
Don't be selfish.
Don't be grouchy.
Don't be a spendthrift or a tight wad.
Don't forget that your wife's mother is the same to your wife as your mother is to you.
Don't forget the church.
Don't forget that "the man worth while is the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong."
Don't stay at home all the time.
Don't let your wife vote.
Don't let your husband bring his business cares home.
Don't let your wife go through your pockets.
Don't have an affinity.
Don't forget to wipe your shoes before you come in the house.
Don't butt in.
If these simple rules were observed the world over the divorce question would not exist.

IN SEARCH OF HEALTH.

The public believes that every disease has its remedy, and in the search for that remedy hundreds of cults have sprung up. One man pins his faith to minute doses of powerful drugs; another walks barefoot over wet grass; another eats raw fruit and grain; one is confident that mud baths induce health, and still another urges us to chew each mouthful of food at least thirty times before swallowing. No doubt every one of these "cures" is of some benefit to some form of disease. The mistake of followers of the treatments is in thinking their particular remedy is a cure-all for every malady. There are no universal remedies. Every type of disease must receive special attention and be treated in the way long experience and study has taught is best adapted to the case. Certain ills respond quickly to drugs the virtues of which are sometimes wonderfully effective; others need nothing but fresh air; still others, a change of climate, while a variety of diseases need no drugs and no journeys to the mountains, but are best relieved by simple dieting. And just as the variety of drug preparations is almost beyond the power of the maker to recall and is daily being increased by the chemist and pharmacist, so a great variety of remedies has been brought out that cannot be considered as drugs, but which still possess singular curative properties. Some diseases are best relieved by special foods prepared of materials that do not aggravate the abnormal condition of the patient, but that tend to remove the disturbing cause. Many of the preparations advertised as special foods contain ingredients which are harmful to persons suffering from these diseases. Diabetic foods are supposed to contain gluten in place of starch, yet most of the commercial diabetic flours are by no means pure gluten since they contain considerable quantities of starch. Some of them are nothing more than whole wheat or Graham flours, and are positively dangerous for diabetic invalids use. They are sold at a high price and their merits are explained in misleading and untruthful advertisements. Food adulteration in no form assumes a more dangerous attitude than when it puts on the garb of medicinal preparations, and poses as a cure for serious diseases. Patients depending on fraudulent diabetic flours would fare better on their ordinary diet, for while they feel secure in consuming breads made from the supposedly starch-free flour, they may be indulging in sufficient starchy food to bring their malady to a speedy and fatal termination.

REFLECTIONS OF A BUSINESS MAN.

(Judge.)
If at first you don't succeed, guess again.
Women can't understand why men waste so much money buying useful things.
People who can't get into society think that society is scandalous, and people who can't succeed in business become muckrakers.
One-sided arguments never become strenuous enough to require the presence of the police.
Set a thief to catch a thief, says the old proverb. But if you'd put it into actual practice, half the world would be chasing the other half.

The conductor returned the Canadian dime to the little woman with a worried look on her face.
"Can't take that money, madam," said he. Her face flushed and she held it helplessly in her hand for a moment.
"Why—why not?" she asked in a small voice.
"It's Canadian," explained the conductor, wearily.
But the man in the corner, though he had paid little attention to anything before, straightened up with an effort and proved his chivalry. Leaning forward, he said in a somewhat husky voice:
"Shame, isn't it? None of these yere coppersations have any kind of feelins. But never you mind; I can't introduce you to a shaloonist what 'll take that

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.
Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.
I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.
We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."
Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.
It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.
Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 123

MAY BE CHANGED

Drastic Regulation of Automobiles Provided In Bill Which Is To Be Submitted To Next Session of Legislature.

The new law regulating automobiles is to be submitted to the Kentucky Legislature making it a misdemeanor for any one intoxicated to drive an automobile, with a $50 fine as the penalty. Speed limits from eight miles in a city center to twenty miles on a road are imposed, and the quarter-mile rule which permitted any speed for a distance less than that is done away with.

All drivers except owners must have chauffeur license. In case of civil action from accident, the burden of proof is on the motorist.
A chauffeur who forfeits his license for drunkenness is forever denied one, and if a chauffeur gets drunk the owner of a car must notify the State board of examiners under penalty of forfeiting his own license.
